Stalked the pace in his debut at TAM March 6 and kept to his task gamely to get his diploma; that run looks better, too, when you note the guy he beat finished another 5 1/2 lengths clear of 3rd; that said, the Beyer came back pretty light and now he faces winners for the first time, all of whom have run faster on the Beyer scale, as well as deal with new surroundings; but there's ample room for growth and he's worked well since.

Debut here Nov. 30 saw him stalk the pace before fading to 5th but he was freshened, came back for $50K, with blinkers, and led all the way for a smart win here Feb. 9; could be the layoff, experience, drop and blinkers all added up to that much-improved run; nice to see there's no layoff here and he got more experience and keeps blinkers, but he faces winners for the first time and after risking him for $50K Feb. 9 they're now willing to part with him for just over half that.

Got away slowly going shorter in his debut here last June 5 but finished with a flurry to win going away; that was a promising start, enough to earn a stakes shot here Aug. 31; that didn't go well, then he was no factor vs. much tougher here Sept. 21 and at GPW Oct. 20; was freshened, came back to be an OK 4th for $35K here Dec. 21, but now comes another layoff since and a further drop; at least Rosario sees fit to ride and he's worked well the past couple months but there seem to be more questions than answers here.

CLOSER LOOK: Is in for the same $16k tag as last time, but this is a completely different kind of race, and now is in against rivals with serious back class who have won multiple races; 4yo is clearly in solid form right now, but he must run significantly faster than that last-out 74 Beyer to beat a few of the main contenders; a minor award seems like his best hope.

Seeks his 4th victory in a row and 5th in his last 6 starts since being transferred into Robert Dibona's barn; once-classy 6yo has slowly but surely been rounding back into form this year; his tactical speed has become a real asset as of late; ran a field off their feet on Jan. 19, but displayed strong finishing kicks from close range in his last two starts; should work out a great stalking trip this time under Lebron, who has been aboard for all of this current win streak; no longer races for a tag and may be moved back up in class soon if he wins again; a deserving favorite.

8yo grey gelding is easy to root for; 12-time winner has regained some consistency since being claimed by Carlos David back in October of last year; has yet to finish out of the money for the new barn and obviously loves Gulfstream; was no match for Dalarna two back, and could be in trouble again if the favorite repeats that kind of effort; yet his last performance was quite encouraging, as he battled for the lead through swift fractions and refused to quit in the lane when the closers swarmed; does best when he s in the mix throughout, so he will have avoid getting caught up in another fast pace; one to consider.

Has been campaigned on dirt recently, though he s quite capable on turf, having won 4 times on that surface; unfortunately, even his best turf efforts from when he was in top form might not be good enough to overhaul the more fancied runners in this spot; at the very least, he should make things interesting on the front end, so he s probably quick enough to clear this field in the early going; his presence may help the closers.

Drops in claiming price, but isn t getting any class relief as he now finds himself in a tougher optional claiming event with a starter condition; has been sent off at massive odds in his recent starts and figures to be another big price despite achieving a career-best 80 Beyer last time; others appeal more. -David Aragona

$725K yearling is the first starter out of Grade 1-winning dirt sprinter Grace Hall (also second in Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies and third in Kentucky Oaks, 6 for 16 on dirt, 105 Beyer top); improved with the addition of blinkers in an off-the-turf event; tracked three wide, attacked the pacesetter from the outside on the turn and finished gamely in between horses; barn is 1 for 16 (6%, $0.71 ROI) over the past five years with older dirt routers adding blinkers; has the tactical speed to work out a good trip and the well-bred colt seems to be moving the right way; contender.

CLOSER LOOK: She ran much better than the narrow margin might indicate when breaking her maiden as a 2yo and, while clearly no star, she went on to run some solid races thereafter, including back to back wins over allowance rivals last spring in NY; has struggled beyond sprint distances so far and she was not in her best form when last seen but Pletcher is excellent off of layoffs and he may be able to get her best race right away as she makes her first start out of this barn.

Faces stakes rivals in six of her seven starts following her maiden win as a 2yo, including a solid try in the Grade 1 Spinaway at Saratoga, and he only non-stakes start during that run was an allowance win off the layoff last October; has earned the top three figures of her career in her most recent three starts and looks like a major player here.

Blame filly easily won her lone start last year at Delaware and she returned from the layoff with a similarly facile score at Tampa in February; her figures leave her with something to find right now but she holds plenty of upside for a hot trainer (Clement is 10 for his last 21 with all starters, 48%, $5.71 ROI) and is bred to get this trip being by Blame and from a mare who posted all three career wins, and a Grade 3 placing, routing on dirt.

Newly-turned 4yo was last seen relishing the class drop to dominant allowance rivals with a 90 Beyer after making her prior four starts in graded stakes company; may want to go a bit longer than this but she looks tough in this spot if she is ready, and Pletcher tends to have them ready in spots like this - past 5 years, 180% day layoff, dirt, route: 32 for 84, 38%, $2.73 ROI.

It took this filly awhile to come around but she was in form when last seen, winning each of her last three starts of 2019 with progressively higher figures; owns fine early speed but can run her race without the lead and she is a threat here if she can come back running off the bench, though that has not been a strong suit for this trainer.

She has won on dirt before, that way back in 2017 when breaking her maiden sprinting, but she has campaigned almost exclusively on turf since then and she appears to be much more effective on that surface; she has talent for a highly-underrated trainer but she may just be prepping off the layoff here - even with the immediate future of racing still in some turmoil. -Mike Beer
